- Are you hiring in British Columbia?
- Having difficulty finding new employees?
- Are you spending hundreds or even thousands on expensive newspaper ads?

BCJobs.com was established in 2000 with the goal of being the leading online job search site for employment opportunities within British Columbia. BCJobs.com provides a cost effective solution to employers of all sizes providing exposure beyond what you would get from a local newspaper, classified ad or national job posting site and at a fraction of the cost.

Our Mission

We strive to provide employers with an opportunity to advertise their employment opportunities online and get the best possible response from job seekers. Our best relationships are formed with the employers themselves. Many online job sites will target recruiting agencies allowing their job sites to display thousands of job postings. While BCJobs.com targets the actual employers themselves, we provide opportunities for job seekers to apply directly and get in contact with the actual companies hiring without having to go through a recruiting agency. Our focus is quality and not quantity. BCJobs.com Employment Specialists are available at no charge to assist you with writing your job postings and assisting you with our services to ensure you get maximum exposure!

How do we advertise?

BCJobs.com has developed extensive partnerships with local media groups and organizations throughout British Columbia creating awareness and exposure to our website and your job postings! We maintain a real time live feed which is provided to all the major search engines and job aggregators.
